

INDIAN SCHOOL DARSAIT
ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES
REVISION WORKSHEET 2
L 7, L9 & L10

Class:V Sec:

Date:.....

Name:.....

Roll No:.....

I. Underline the incorrect word and rewrite the correct sentence.

a. Malnutrition leads to food poisoning.

b. The process of loosening and turning the soil is called sowing.

c. The process of removing weeds is called transplantation.

d. Bacteria and fungi grow well at room temperature in the presence of chemicals.

e. Hoarding and black marketing are legal.

II. Match the following:

a. Beri-Beri

1. Dry storage

b. Scurvy

2. cooling

c. Mucor

3. Vitamin B

d. Baisakhi

4. Vitamin C

e. Pulses

5. Punjab

6. Micro organism

III. Name the following:

a. Any two natural calamities.

b. Any three deficiency diseases.

IV. Write two advantages of :

a. Food preservation

b. Ploughing

c. Levelling

V. Identify and name the following deficiency diseases given below.

VI. Answer the following.

a. What is pasteurization ? Who developed this method ?

b. Differentiate between threshing and winnowing .

c. Rijul was suffering from swelling of his thyroid gland.Can you identify the deficiency disease? Suggest two food items he should eat to avoid this disease.

d. Why are fruits and vegetables kept in refrigerators ?

- e. Amrita got a basket full of green mangoes. She wants to preserve it for one month. Can you suggest any food preservation method for her? And justify your answer.

- f. What are deficiency diseases? Name the disease caused by the deficiency of vitamin B.
