Ostriches live in Africa. They are the largest birds in the world. On hot days, ostriches use their wings to fan themselves. On cold days, ostriches cover themselves with their wings to keep warm. Ostriches are fast runners. They have long legs and take huge steps as they run. They have long necks too.

Ostriches usually eat plants, roots and seeds. But they also eat insects and lizards. A group of ostriches is called a herd. A herd has about ten ostriches. The herd builds one big nest for its eggs. Ostrich eggs are as large as twenty four chicken eggs put together.
